Susan Offutt is the Chief Economist of the Government Accountability Office, an arm of the U.S. Congress. She has served as the Administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service, and the Executive Director of the National Academy of Sciences Board on Agriculture, which conducts studies on a range of topics in agricultural science. Susan was also the chief of the agriculture branch at the Office of Management and Budget in the Executive Office of the U.S. President. In 2002, she was named a Distinguished Executive of the United States Senior Executive Service.

Noshing with Notables provides an opportunity for George Washington University students to meet and engage with successful policy practitioners in an informal setting over lunch. Our "Notables" are public policy experts from the government, private sector, academia and non-profit entities.

The George Washington University Regulatory Studies Center aims to raise awareness of regulations' effects and improve regulatory policy through research, education, and outreach.
