Please join us for a presentation on May 23rd by Dr. Ragnar Löfstedt. Dr. Löfstedt will provide an overview of the crisis in Europe regarding chemical, environmental, and food regulation; and summarize possible solutions. Dr. Löfstedt's presentation will be based on his 2013 publication in the Journal of Risk Analysis, The Informal European Parliamentary Working Group on Risk--History, Remit, and Future Plans.

Ragnar E. Löfstedt is a Professor of Risk Management and the Director of King's Centre for Risk Management, King's College London, UK, where he teaches and conducts research on risk communication and management.

This discussion is part of the GW Regulatory Studies Center's 2014 research focus on reducing international trade & investment barriers by improving understanding of transatlantic regulatory practices & policies. This project is supported by the European Union.
