

Paul R. Noe

Paul Noe is the Vice President for Public Policy at the American Forest & Paper Association. He has extensive experience in leading the formulation and execution of regulatory advocacy strategies. At AF&PA, Paul works on a wide variety of issues, including environmental regulation, regulatory reform, renewable energy, biomass carbon neutrality, chemicals and product stewardship, workplace health and safety, and sustainability. Prior to joining AF&PA, Paul was the Vice President of Regulatory Affairs at the Grocery Manufacturers Association and a partner at C&M Capitolink and counsel to Crowell & Moring.

Paul also has broad experience in public service, including as Counselor to the Administrator in the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget (2001-2006), where he helped to lead the development of regulatory policy and White House review of regulations in the Administration of George W. Bush. He previously served as senior counsel to the U.S. Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs under Chairmen Fred Thompson, Ted Stevens and Bill Roth (1995-2001), where his work focused on reforming the regulatory process. Early in his career, he clerked for Judge Charles Richey on the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

He currently serves as the Co-Chair of the Committee on Legislation in the ABA Section of Administrative Law and Regulatory Practice, and previously served as Co-Chair of the Committee on Rulemaking, as well as Council Member for the Section. He recently co-authored a paper, "Beyond Process Excellence: Enhancing Societal Well-Being," which will be published this spring by Brookings Institution Press in a book entitled, "Achieving Regulatory Excellence."

Paul is a graduate of The Georgetown University Law Center, where he was an Olin fellow in law and economics, and Williams College, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.
