

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON DC

Regulatory Studies Center
&
TSPPPA Career Development Services
present:

Noshing with Notables
Informal lunch talks with successful public policy experts about their careers and career paths

Featuring:

Colleen J. Shogan
Deputy Director, Congressional Research Service

April 26, 2013
MPA Room 601Z
12:00 – 1:30 PM
Lunch Provided*

Colleen Shogan began her Washington career as an Assistant Professor of American Government at George Mason University in 2002. Her work on Capitol Hill began in 2005 as an American Political Science Association Congressional Fellow in Senator Joseph Lieberman's office, then as a legislative assistant to Senator Lieberman, where she worked on a variety of policy issues. Shogan left the Senate for a management position at the Congressional Research Service. She then served in a senior management position as the head of the Government and Finance Division and as an Assistant Director. In 2012, she was named the Deputy Director of the Congressional Research Service. She teaches a graduate course at Georgetown University in the Government Department. Her book, The Moral Rhetoric of American Presidents, was recently named by the Wall Street Journal as one of the "top five" books on presidential rhetoric.

Shogan was a National Science Foundation Graduate Fellow for political science, and a Stennis Congressional Staff Fellow in the 112th Congress. She received her bachelor's degree in political science, summa cum laude from Boston College and her Ph.D., M.Phil. and M.A. in political science from Yale University.

Noshing with Notables provides an opportunity for George Washington University students to meet and engage with successful policy practitioners in an informal setting over lunch. Our "Notables" are public policy experts from the government, private sector, academia, and non-profit entities.

The George Washington University Regulatory Studies Center aims to raise awareness of regulations' effects and improve regulatory policy through research, education, and outreach.

 Open to the GW Community. Space is limited, so please [insert link] register here.