

Biography: Tina Green, Assistant Secretary, Regulatory Affairs Sector, Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat

Tina Green was appointed Assistant Secretary, Regulatory Affairs Sector (RAS), effective April 29, 2019. RAS is responsible for supporting and challenging departments on regulatory proposals submitted for Governor in Council approval in alignment with the Cabinet Directive on Regulation. More specifically, departments are required to represent analysis relating to federal-provincial alignment, international cooperation, and minimization of burden on industry while championing rigorous cost-benefit analysis. To date, Tina has presented hundreds of regulatory proposals to Treasury Board for approval.

Tina is the co-champion of the Community of Federal Regulators \(CFR\) which is an inter-departmental community working together to enhance and sustain the capacity of the federal regulatory community through learning, partnerships, and best practices.

Tina also sits as chair of the Steering Group on Measuring Regulatory Performance, which is an ad hoc group that advises the OECD Regulatory Policy Committee to support work on measuring regulatory performance to diagnose success and failures, improve regulatory policies, programmes and tools, and to communicate progress. In addition, the group's work helps to demonstrate how improvements to regulatory governance deliver actual benefits to business and citizens.

Tina has over 29 years of experience within the federal government with almost 20 years of that experience at the executive level. She has been a regulator for most of her career in a range of areas including food, consumer product safety, drugs and medical devices, and chemicals management. Tina holds a B.Sc. in chemistry from the University of New Brunswick and a Masters in Science in physical chemistry from the University of Waterloo.
